Bovine Metropolis Theater “Improvathon” to Benefit Family Tree

The Bovine Metropolis Theater will host a 24-hour “Improvathon” marathon featuring The SanScript Players from 6:00 p.m. on Friday, August 1, until 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, August 2. Tickets for this special event are only $8 with all proceeds benefiting Family Tree.

The Bovine Metropolis Theater is an improv and sketch comedy theater located in the heart of downtown Denver’s new theater district at 1527 Champa Street.

Eric Farone is the Owner and Artistic Director of the Bovine and added, “Bovine Metropolis Theater has a long association with Family Tree having done two Improvathons over the past eight years. We believe that Family Tree provides an invaluable service to the community and we want to help them in their commitment to families.”

Since 1976 Family Tree has provided a continuum of services and shelters to families and youth of metro Denver to overcome child abuse, domestic violence and homelessness. Last year, Family Tree provided services to more than 31,000 people including more than 25,000 nights of safe shelter to families and individuals who might otherwise be homeless. The mission of Family Tree is to help people overcome child abuse, domestic violence and homelessness to become safe, strong and self-reliant. For more information visit: www.thefamilytree.org.
